SOCIAL ENTREPRENEURSHIP WORLD

What is social entrepreneurship and what do social entrepreneurs do?

'Social entrepreneurs identify resources where people only see problems. They view the villagers as the solution, not the passive beneficiary. They begin with the assumption of competence and unleash resources in the communities they're serving.'

Definitions of Social Entrepreneurs

- Ashoka: social entrepreneurs are the engines of social change and role models for the citizen sector.
- Skoll Foundation: creating innovative models that can spark large-scale change for seemingly intractable social problems.
- The Schwab Foundation: about applying practical, innovative and sustainable approaches to benefit society in general, with an emphasis on those who are marginalized and poor.
- Echoing Green: are those exceptional individuals who dream up and take responsibility for an innovative and untested idea for positive social change, and usher that idea from dream to reality.

These organizations identifies and invests in leading social entrepreneurs and helps them achieve maximum social impact.

"Social entrepreneurship can lead to a new, socially responsible business model that focuses beyond market liberalism and profit maximization" (Bornstein 2004; Yunus 2008).

Social entrepreneurship is addressing social needs using sustainable innovative solutions that make an impact on a community and ultimately society as a whole!

What is Social Entrepreneurship?

Applying practical, innovative and sustainable approaches to benefit society in general, with an emphasis on those who are marginalized and poor.

A term that captures a unique approach to economic and social problems, an approach that cuts across sectors and disciplines grounded in certain values and processes that are common to each social entrepreneur, independent of whether his/her area of focus has been education, health, welfare reform, human rights, workers' rights, environment, economic development, agriculture, etc., or whether the organizations they set up are non-profit or for-profit entities.

It is this approach that sets the social entrepreneur apart from the rest of the crowd of well-meaning people and organizations who dedicate their lives to social improvement.

Definitions of Social Entrepreneurs

- Social entrepreneurs are driven by a social mission, implying that:
- Success is defined by creating the intended social impact, not simply by
 - Economic value creation for owners, managers, and employees, or
 - Consumption value for customers

“Social entrepreneurship can lead to a new, socially responsible business model that focuses beyond market liberalism and profit maximization” (Bornstein 2004; Yunus 2008).

Social entrepreneurship is addressing social needs using sustainable innovative solutions that make an impact on a community and ultimately society as a whole!

What is a Social Entrepreneur?

According to the Schwab Foundation:

“A social entrepreneur drives social innovation and transformation in various fields including education, health, environment and enterprise development. They pursue poverty alleviation goals with entrepreneurial zeal, business methods and the courage to innovate and overcome traditional practices. A social entrepreneur, similar to a business entrepreneur, builds strong and sustainable organizations, which are either set up as not-for-profits or for-profit companies.”

Social Entrepreneur

- A social entrepreneur is somebody who takes up a pressing social problem and meets it with an innovative or path breaking solution. Since profit making is a secondary objective, therefore they are people who are passionate and determined about what they do. They possess a very high level of motivation and are visionaries who aim at bringing about a change in the way things are.

SOCIAL ENTREPRENEURS ARE:

- Ambitious: Social entrepreneurs tackle major social issues, from increasing the college enrollment rate of low-income students to fighting poverty. They operate in all kinds of organizations: innovative nonprofits, social-purpose ventures, and hybrid organizations that mix elements of nonprofit and for-profit organizations.
- Mission driven: Generating social value —not wealth—is the central criterion of a successful social entrepreneur. While wealth creation may be part of the process, it is not an end in itself. Promoting systemic social change is the real objective.
- Strategic: Like business entrepreneurs, social entrepreneurs see and act upon what others miss: opportunities to improve systems, create solutions and invent new approaches that create social value. And like the best business entrepreneurs, social entrepreneurs are intensely focused and hard-driving in their pursuit of a social vision.
- Resourceful: Because social entrepreneurs operate within a social context rather than the business world, they have limited access to capital and traditional market support systems. As a result, social entrepreneurs must be skilled at mobilizing human, financial and political resources.
- Results oriented: Social entrepreneurs are driven to produce measurable returns. These results transform existing realities, open up new pathways for the marginalized and disadvantaged, and unlock society's potential to effect social change.

IDEAS WITH IMPACT
 A Social Entrepreneurship Challenge

The Jim Moran Institute for Global Entrepreneurship in the College of Business presents the Ideas with Impact Social Entrepreneurship Challenge. The idea is to present a business solution to a social problem or issue. Participants are encouraged to form teams of three to four students to draft a plan for creating and sustaining a business solution to a social problem such as poverty, illness, literacy, environmental destruction, and human rights abuses and corruption. This free competition is open to all Florida State students who are in any degree program during the 2013-2014 academic year.

Important Dates:

- Oct. 9 - Kickoff Workshop, 5:30 p.m., Henry Conference Room (R6B 214)
- Oct. 11 - Deadline for entry, 11:59 p.m.
- Oct. 12-Nov. 8 - Proposal development timeframe
- Nov. 8 - Proposals due, 11:59 p.m.
- Nov. 12-19 - Judges' evaluation

Grand Prize: Travel costs and entry fees for up to two members of the winning team to attend national social entrepreneurship competitions, consultation and mentorship sessions, and a professionally produced video pitch for national social entrepreneurship competitions arranged by The Jim Moran Institute. Approximate retail value: $5,000

Visit jmi.fsu.edu for competition rules, guidelines, tips and resources.

The Holy Grail of Social Entrepreneurship

Social Process and Social Purpose

Social process values the "how" of doing business. Sustainability initiatives, paying a living wage, offering benefits, and providing a compelling workplace are examples of how organizations enhance can their workforces & communities.

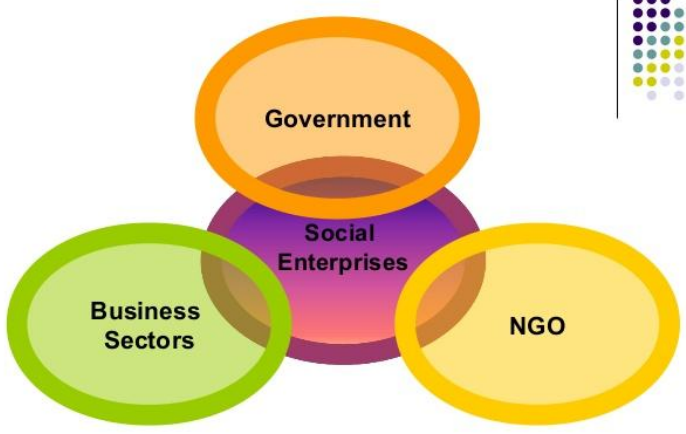

Social purpose is rooted in desire to solve a social issue. Achieving this social purpose is an in-extractable part of the business model. Without it, the model could not exist.

Dear Social Entrepreneur, do this work first. Leave definitions to the dictionary and incorporation to your lawyer.
